“Shepherd the flock of God among you exercising oversight not under compulsion, but voluntarily, according to the will of God...”

TO “He _____!”

Roy Buttrum has once again delivered his annual suggestion for a congregational motto. “Revive us again in 2010” is an excellent thought on which to begin the New Year. It is in reality a prayer for God to do that which we cannot on our own (Ps. 85:6). It is a prayer for new life among God’s people - for the lukewarm to become zealous again (Rev. 3:16,19) - for the people of God to be stirred up by His Spirit and experience again the joy of salvation - for the Lord’s Church to be the gospel lighthouse He intended it to be. With prayerful and receptive hearts, personal and congregational revival can be experienced!

Our thanks to Terry and Janis Williams for all the beautiful decorations we enjoyed in the “Sylvan Hills living room” during the holiday season. They helped make the auditorium an attractive place to gather with our families and lift up the name of Jesus.

George Cobb continues to utilize his creativity in developing PowerPoint templates for the worship assemblies. Our current theme, “Faith—Fuel for Life’s Journey,” was his idea. His initial concept fueled the subsequent sermon titles listed on the column to the left. What does God have in store for these messages? Prayerfully, far more than we can imagine at this point. Last week, a dear SH member wrote, “When God gave you that message, did it have my name on it?” Wouldn’t it be great if each time we approached God’s word, we asked, “Lord, what do you want to say to me today?”

Involvement Ministry with Ted Edwards

The Sylvan Hills HOPE House is a place for all who seek support and empowerment. It's a place where we share our stories and discover how God is at work in all of us. We open our hearts without condemnation or judging each other. We bear our insecurities, addictions, infidelities and failures.

Without fear of envy, we celebrate our triumphs and successes. Bringing our burden-bearing, joy-disclosing, service-sharing experiences into His light, we begin to heal, as we reach out to one another.

Remember the Thursday Night H.O.P.E. Group has started meeting again on Thursday nights at 7 pm. Everyone is invited to participate in this Spirit filled meeting where deep love for one another flows as we share our lives together in Him .
